

Contributions

Contributions to the Journal of Arabic Literature should be sent to:

Journal of Arabic Literature
American University of Sharjah
P.O. Box 26666
Sharjah
United Arab Emirates

or to the editor:

Muhsin al-Musawi
Columbia University
615 Kent Hall
1140 Amsterdam Avenue
New York NY 10027
United States of America

Contributions should be original work which has neither been simultaneously submitted for publication elsewhere nor published previously. The journal will consider articles for publication in English. Manuscripts should be submitted in duplicate, double-spaced throughout (including quotations, notes, bibliography), with notes at the end, and all pages consecutively numbered. They should be accompanied by a disk in WordPerfect, Microsoft Word, or ASCII formatting. The full address of the author should appear at the end of the manuscript and on a separate cover sheet.

Manuscripts should be submitted in final publishable form including full transliteration, close to written forms for Arabic names and titles. Full and consistent bibliographical annotation is required using either the Chicago Manual of Style or Modern Language Association system. Submissions also should have consistent and appropriate transliteration of Arabic names and terms in either the International Journal of Middle East Studies or Library of Congress system.

Authors will be required to supply camera-ready copy of any Arabic texts to be included in their articles.

In accordance with standard academic practice, articles submitted for publication in JAL are subject to a process of peer review. Regrettably, manuscripts that are not accepted for publication cannot be returned.

Authors of articles receive three complimentary issues of the journal (for multi-authored contributions, issues are sent to the first-named author). Authors of book reviews received one complimentary issue.

Production

Authors of accepted contributions receive two sets of proofs for proofreading. These should be returned promptly within the period requested, with no corrections marked other than those made in the conversion process. In the event of a multi-authored contributions, proofs are sent to the first-named author unless otherwise requested.
