

Instructions for Authors

Scope

Vivarium (VIV) is an international journal dedicated to the history of philosophy and intellectual life from the early Middle Ages to the early-modern era. It is widely recognized as an unrivalled resource for the history of medieval logic, semantics, epistemology, and metaphysics. It welcomes articles on thinkers, their ideas, arguments, and writings, as well as the institutional and intellectual life of this period. Editions of texts as brief appendices to the main articles may be added. Articles on Renaissance and early-modern philosophy are welcome if they link it with the medieval tradition. Articles on Arabic, Byzantine, and Jewish thought are welcome if there is a clear connection with the Latin tradition. Vivarium also publishes regularly special issues devoted to a particular theme or philosopher.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

The Journal uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/viv.

First-time users of EM need to register first. Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the 'Instructions for Authors' and the EM instructions available by following the above link and clicking on the 'help' icon in the top left hand menu on the page. Online submission considerably shortens overall publication time. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files.

Please upload source files (.doc, etc.) and not .pdf files.

For figures, please see below. Any figure files should be uploaded separately, and should have a high density of at least 300 dpi at a size suitable for printing.

The revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blind Peer Review

VIV uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript plus the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

Contact Address

For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact the Editors at:

schabel@ucy.ac.cy; william.duba@unifr.ch

For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com.

Submission Requirements

Language

Contributions should ideally be written in English, but French, German, or Italian contributions are acceptable. Spelling in English (British or American) should be consistent throughout. The author is responsible for a grammatically and stylistically correct manuscript.

Length

Contributions should not exceed 10,000 words, including footnotes. (If significantly longer articles are envisaged, please consult the editor first).

Text Editions

Authors are required to submit reproductions of manuscripts where an edition is included in an article.

Unicode Font

Unicode fonts such as the Brill or KadmosU are highly recommended. Authors should provide the files of the Greek font used, or, if not possible, clearly state the name of the font used.

Manuscript Structure

General

Manuscripts must be clearly typewritten with numbered pages, double spacing and wide margins throughout. Bold typeface should be avoided, except in first level headings (see below). Use italics where the printed text is to be italicized.

Title Page

Please include a separate title page document to facilitate anonymous peer-review. This page should include the a) title of the article; b) name of author; c) institute with which the author is affiliated; d) the author's address (both postal and e-mail), the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This information should appear only on this separate title page.

Abstract and Keywords

Each article should be accompanied by a 10-line abstract (max. 150 words), which should state the principal conclusions of the paper, as well as 2-6 keywords for indexing purposes. Both abstract and keywords should be in English.

Headings

Section headings should be bold and have initial capitals; second level headings should be in bold italics.

Footnotes and References

Please use footnotes, not endnotes or a bibliography. Footnotes should be brief and limit themselves to what is necessary to document an argument. They should be numbered consecutively throughout the paper.

Abbreviations of Latin words, e.g., ibid., op. cit., should be in roman.

At the end of journal references, please also insert the DOI number, whenever available.

References should be given in the footnotes, in the following form:

Stuart Clark, Thinking with Demons: The Idea of Witchcraft in Early Modern Europe (Oxford, 1997), 23-78.

P. S. Eardley, 'Conceptions of Happiness and Human Destiny in the Late Thirteenth Century', Vivarium 44 (2006), 276-304. DOI: 10.1163/23527064-00000001.

Jacques Jouanna, 'The Birth of Western Medical Art', in Western Medical Thought from Antiquity to the Middle Ages, ed. M. D. Grmek (Cambridge, MA, 1998), 42-75.

M. Alexander Stewart, 'John Ray', in Ueberweg Grundriss der Geschichte der Philosophie. Die Philosophie des 17. Jahrhunderts, ed. Jean-Pierre Schobinger, 8 vols. (Basel, 1988-2002), 3/2: 415-24 [= part 3, vol. 2, pp. 415-24].

In subsequent references, use the short title, e.g.:

Clark, Thinking with Demons, 18; Eardley, 'Conceptions of Happiness and Human Destiny', 280.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to the author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly to the editor within the period requested.

E-offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version after an embargo period of 12 months. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
