
PLAGIARISM POLICY- JCPSP

JCPSP observes/follows the ICMJE and HEC criteria for all types of plagiarism. The same can be accessed at www.icmje.org and www.hec.gov.pk

It is the authors' responsibility to apprise themselves of plagiarism in any form including paraphrasing and self-plagiarism.

Manuscripts submitted to JCPSP can be sent to HEC, other medical editors and international agencies for authentication of originality.

The disciplinary committee of JCPSP to deal with cases of plagiarism will comprise of the staff editors and the Chief Editor or his representative.

For a plagiarised article in processing, the identification of act will lead to dropping of article from further processing/consideration of publication. The author will be required to give an explanation on demand. In case of an unsatisfactory reply, the matter will be referred to the disciplinary committee that may decide the course of action.

For published articles, the allegedly plagiarised article will be temporarily retracted from publication and a notice to the effect will be published in the JCPSP. The author will be served an explanation demand. In case of non response in the stipulated time or unsatisfactory explanation, the article will be permanently retracted and the author will be on watch. HEC, PMDC and author's institute will also be notified.

In case of multiple submissions, other editors will also be informed. The author(s) will have to provide documentary proof of retraction from publication, if such a defence is pleaded.

Those claiming intellectual/idea or data theft of an article must provide documentary proof in their claim.
