

Information for Contributors

Annals of the Entomological Society of America

Annals of the Entomological Society of America is published in January, March, May, July, September, and November. Contributors report on the basic aspects of the biology of arthropods and are divided into categories by subject matter: systematics; ecology and population biology; arthropod biology; arthropods in relation to plant diseases; conservation biology and biodiversity, physiology, biochemistry, and toxicology; morphology, histology, and fine structure; genetics; and behavior.

All manuscripts are reviewed by scientists qualified to judge the validity of the research. Acceptance or rejection, however, is the decision of the subject editor. Acceptance of manuscripts is based solely on their scientific merit. Appeal of a rejected manuscript should be made to the Editorial Board, via the Director of Publications. Accepted manuscripts are published approximately in the order they are received.

In addition to research papers, Annals publishes Letters to the Editor, interpretive articles in a Forum section, and Book Reviews. The same guidelines apply to these as to research articles. For more detailed instructions concerning the preparation and submission of manuscripts, consult the ESA Style Guide at www.entsoc.org/Pubs/PUBLISH/esa\_publish.htm

Manuscript Submission and Preparation. As of December 2, 2002, all manuscripts for the journal should be submitted electronically using our new web-based Rapid Review system. Go to <http://www.rapidreview.com> and select the Author Log On button next to the ESA journals. All authors submitting through Rapid Review for the first time are required to set up an account by filling in their contact information and determining their user name and password. Once you have done so, please follow the instructions for submitting your manuscript online. Tables and figures should be included as part of the manuscript file. Authors can subsequently log on to Rapid Review and see the status of their manuscript(s) in the "My Manuscripts" screen. If you have questions, try using the online Help button first. Or, you can e-mail pubs@entsoc.org or call 301-731-4535, ext. 3020.

Submit manuscript as an MS Word or WordPerfect file (PC version recommended) with a page size of 8.5 x 11". Type all as double-spaced, with 1-inch margins, and do not justify text. Use the font Times (New) Roman (12 point). Use italicization only to indicate scientific names, symbols for variables, and words that are defined. Use quotation marks for quoted material only. Use American English spelling throughout and follow Merriam-Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, 10th ed., for guidance on spelling. Number pages consecutively, beginning with the title page. Note that ESA now requires that line numbers be used on your submitted manuscript. Begin each of the following on a separate page and arrange in the following order: title page, abstract and key words (three to six words), text, acknowledgments, references cited, footnotes, tables, figure legends, and figures. Type all captions on a separate page and put each figure and table on a separate page.

Title Page. In the upper right corner, type the complete name, address, telephone number, fax number, and email of the author who is to receive and approve page proofs. In the upper left corner, type Annals, the section of the journal in which the manuscript should appear, and the running head. Use a brief and informative title that includes order and family names in parentheses. Four lines beneath the title, type in capital letters the complete names of all authors. Four lines beneath the authors' names, type the department, institution, city, state, zip code, and country (other than the United States) of the institution where the research was done. Use numbered footnotes for authors not affiliated with the research institution, and give their addresses or affiliations on the footnote page.

Abstract. Abstract should be an informative digest of the significant contents and the main conclusions of the research.

References Cited. Citations in the text should be by last name of the author and date and refer to a reference listed alphabetically by author in References Cited. For further formatting instructions, see the ESA Style Guide at www.entsoc.org/Pubs/PUBLISH/esa\_publish.htm

Tables. Keep tables to a minimum. Type all parts of each table double spaced, with each table starting a new page.

Figures. Include all figures, in black and white or color, as part of the manuscript file, with each figure on a separate page. Figures should be inserted in the manuscript file in one of the following formats: TIFF, EPS, WMF, or Postscript (GIF and JPEG formats produce unacceptable laser printouts because of low resolution, even for peer review purposes). Image resolution should be 300 pixels per inch and figures should be one or two columns wide (i.e., 73 or 147 mm). Separate parts of the same figure must be grouped together and arranged to use space efficiently. Wherever possible, it is best to avoid using a full page for a set of illustrations. That is, authors should attempt to have each figure appear separately from the others and should consider numbering illustrations as separate figures rather than as multiple parts of the same figure. Authors should indicate a preference for one- or two-column reproduction, and are asked to account for proportionate reduction or enlargement in the choice of lettering size, type style, and the format of the artwork itself. Final lettering size should be 8 or 9 point, using the font Arial or Helvetica. Authors with questions concerning the preparation of artwork can refer to the Cadmus web site at <http://cjs.cadmus.com/da/> or contact the publications office staff at 301-731-4535 or pubs@entsoc.org. Once a paper is accepted for publication, ESA can use original drawings and photographs if a suitable electronic version is not available.

Style Conventions. When first mentioned, a plant or animal should include the full scientific name and the author of the zoological name unabbreviated—except for Linnaeus (L.) and Fabricius (F.). Use only common names approved by the Entomological Society of America (Common Names of Insects & Related Organisms 1997). Otherwise, the manuscript should conform to the guidelines established by the latest edition of the Council of Biology Editors Style Manual.

Proofs and Reprints. Page proofs and reprint order forms are sent to authors after manuscripts are typeset. All changes in proof, except for printer and editorial errors and answers to copyeditor queries addressing style or format, will be charged to the author.

Editorial Charges. Editorial review charges are assessed on all accepted manuscripts to cover some of the expenses of publishing. Contact the publication office at 301-731-4535 or the ESA web site for current rates. Reprints (printed and electronic) are ordered at the time page proofs are returned to ESA; see the reprint order form for rates. Author alterations are billed at $6 per alteration (alterations to figures are billed at a higher rate). Member authors who are unemployed or retired and not affiliated with any institution can publish five pages gratis each year. Member authors who are employed but who have no grants or funds for publication can request a partial waiver of editorial charges. Such requests must be made at the time of manuscript submission. For more information on waivers, publication charges, and policies, see the ESA web site at www.entsoc.org/Pubs/PUBLISH/esa\_publish.htm
