Electronic submissions in Microsoft Word, WordPerfect, or pdf. are preferred (since all referring is blind, the coverpage with the names and addresses of authors should be in a separate file). Hardcopy submissions will also be accepted; they should be sent in triplicate. They too should have a separate coverpage, which should be the first page of the document. The second page should repeat the title and contain an Abstract of not more than 200 words. The third page should repeat the title as the heading to the start of the main text of the paper. All pages should be numbered. Submissions should be in the style of the American Psychological Association and should not exceed 10,000 words. Proofs for checking will normally be sent to the first author named to whom any correspondence and offprints will also be addressed. Footnotes to the text should be avoided wherever this is reasonably possible. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

Electronic Submission. Authors should send the final, revised version of their articles in both hard copy paper and electronic disk forms. It is essential that the hard copy (paper) version exactly matches the material on disk. Please print out the hard copy from the disk you are sending. Submit three printed copies of the final version with the disk to the journal's editorial office. Save all files on a standard 3.5 inch high-density disk. We prefer to receive disks in Microsoft Word in a PC format, but can translate from most other common word processing programs as well as Macs. Please specify which program you have used. Do not save your files as "text only" or "read only".

Style Please follow recent issues of the journal for style. Click here. to download a style guide. Use double quotes for quotations and "scare quotes." Single quotes for mentioned words, and quotations within quotations. No quotes for normal text: talking about a dog. Single quotes for used text: the mentioned word 'dog'. Concepts and categories are small caps: the concept DOG. Use American English—not Australian or British English. For parenthetical citations in text, use (Name, 1999, pp. 18–29). If Author named in text, only include date in parentheses (1999). Punctuation goes outside 'single quotes', inside "double quotes." Exception for quotations followed by parenthetical citation, where punctuation "follows the reference" (Ref, 1999, pp. 18–29). Em dashes between breaks in sentences—like this. In text: § for section numbers; ch. for chapters, pp. for pages.

References should follow the American Psychological Association system (5th edn), i.e. they should be indicated in the typescript by the author's names, with the year of publication in parentheses, e.g. Smith (1984); or if there are more than two authors—Smith et al. (1984). If several papers from the same author(s) and from the same year are cited, (a), (b), (c), etc. should be put after the year of publication. The references should be listed in full alphabetically at the end of the paper on a separate sheet in the following standard form:

Titles of journals should not be abbreviated..

Illustrations should not be inserted in the text but each provided separately and numbered on the back with Figure numbers, title of paper and name. Three copies of all figures must be submitted and at least one version should be suitable for use as camera-ready copy. Figures should be the same size as or slightly larger than they will appear in the printed version, where the maximum width will be 13.5 cm and the maximum depth 19 cm. All photographs, graphs and diagrams should be referred to as Figures and should be numbered consecutively in the text in Arabic numerals (e.g. Figure 3). A list of captions for the figures should be submitted on a separate sheet and should make interpretation possible without reference to the text. Captions should include keys to symbols.

Tables should be typed on separate sheets and should be given Arabic numerals. Their approximate position in the text should be indicated. Units should appear in parentheses in the column heading but not in the body of the table. Words or numerals should be repeated on successive lines; 'ditto' or 'do' should not be used.

Proofs will be sent to the author by email if there is sufficient time to do so. Proofs (including proofs of illustrations) are supplied for checking and making essential corrections, not for general revision or alteration. Proofs should be corrected and returned to the joint editor within 3 days of receipt.

Early Electronic Offprints: Corresponding authors can now receive their article by e-mail as a complete PDF. This allows the author to print up to 50 copies, free of charge, and disseminate them to colleagues. In many cases this facility will be available up to two weeks prior to publication. Or, alternatively, corresponding authors will receive the traditional 50 offprints. A copy of the journal will be sent by post to all corresponding authors after publication. Additional copies of the journal can be purchased at the author's preferential rate of £15.00/$25.00 per copy.

Copyright. It is a condition of publication that authors vest or license copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Taylor & Francis Ltd. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the material elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Ltd.
