

Topics in Geriatric Rehabilitation Author Guide

Purpose of the Journal

TGR is a peer-reviewed journal that presents clinical, basic, and applied research, as well as theoretic information, consolidated into a clinically relevant form and provides a resource for the health care professional practicing in the area of geriatric rehabilitation.

Publication Policy

Invited articles: TGR is a topic-oriented journal. Issue editors are engaged to design the journal contents and solicit authors. The number of invited manuscripts in an issue will usually be from four to six. An original and three copies of invited papers should be sent to the Journal Editor or directly to the Issue Editor where appropriate.

Unsolicited articles: Authors are encouraged to submit (1) original articles, based on observations or experimentation, that add new knowledge to the field of geriatric rehabilitation, and (2) analytical reviews that codify existing knowledge or throw light on the present and future roles of specialists in the field. The literature of geriatric rehabilitation and related disciplines should be reviewed for the purpose of preparing complete and definitive manuscripts. The decision to accept or reject an article will be based on the judgment of peer reviewers. All unsolicited articles should be written to contribute to upcoming topics.

Submitting Papers

Before submitting an article, authors are requested to email the Issue Editor. After the article has been discussed, manuscripts (an original and three copies) and correspondence regarding publication should be addressed to the issue editor.

AUTHOR'S MANUSCRIPT CHECKLIST FOR JOURNALS

Authors should pay particular attention to the items below before submitting their manuscripts.

Manuscript Preparation

Manuscripts should be created on IBM-compatible (PC) equipment using Windows 95 or higher operating system. Our preferred software is Microsoft Word.

Hard copy and electronic files should be submitted for all text. Authors have the option of submitting high-resolution, camera-ready artwork electronically using the guidelines outlined under "Illustrations."

Manuscripts should be double spaced (including quotations, lists, and references, footnotes, figure captions, and all parts of tables).

Manuscripts should be ordered as follows: title page, abstracts, text, references, appendixes, tables, and any illustrations.

Manuscript Contents

Each manuscript must include the following:

Title page including (1) title of the article, (2) author names (with highest academic degrees) and affiliations (including titles, departments, and name and location of institutions of primary employment), (3) any acknowledgments credits, or disclaimers and (4) disclosure of funding received for this work from any of the following organizations: National Institutes of Health (NIH); Wellcome Trust; Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI); and other(s).

Abstract of 100 words or fewer describing the main points of the article. If it is a research article, prepare a structured abstract describing (1) what was observed or investigated, (2) the subjects and methods, and (3) the results and conclusions. Also include up to 7 key words that describe the contents of the article like those that appear in the Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature (CINAHL) or the National Library of Medicine's Medical Subject Headings (MeSH).

Clear indication of the placement of all tables and figures in text.

Signed copyright transfer form or U.S. Government Work form (attached) for each author.

Completed article submission form for each author (attached).

Written permission for any borrowed text, tables, or figures.

References

References must be cited in text and styled in the reference list according to the American Medical Association Manual of Style, Ed. 9, Copyright 1998, AMA.

References should not be created using Microsoft Word's automatic footnote/endnote feature.

References should be included on a separate page at the end of the article and should be double spaced.

References should be numbered consecutively in the order they are cited; reference numbers can be used more than once throughout an article.

References, con't

Here are some examples of correctly styled reference entries.

Journals: Author, article title, journal, year, volume, inclusive pages.

Doe J. Allied medical education. JAMA. 1975;23:170–184.
Doe J. Drug use during high school. Am J Public Health. 1976;64(5):12–22.

Books: Author, book title, place of publication, publisher, year.

Winawar S, Lipkin M. Proliferative abnormalities in the gastrointestinal tract. In: Card WI, Creamer B, eds. Modern Trends in Gastroenterology. 4th ed. London, England: Butterworth & Co; 1970.

For multiple authors in journals and books:

- If six or fewer list all authors
- If more than six list the first three followed by et al.

Illustrations

High-resolution, camera-ready images may be submitted electronically as either a Tagged Image File Format (TIFF) or an encapsulated PostScript (EPS) file in Adobe Illustrator®, Adobe Photoshop®, or QuarkXPress®. Please save files in both the application in which they were created (i.e., Adobe Illustrator®) and as either EPS or TIFF files. Use computer-generated lettering. Do not use screens, color, shading, or fine line. We cannot accept art that has been photocopied, is embedded in a Word document (has a .doc extension), was downloaded from the internet, is supplied in JPEG or GIFF formats, or was created in Pagemaker or Powerpoint. A laser proof must accompany art that is being submitted electronically.

In lieu of original drawings and other material, a sharp, glossy, black-and-white photographic print between 5" x 7" and 8" x 10" is acceptable.

Each figure should have a label on the back indicating the number of the figure, the names of the authors, and the top of the figure. Do not write directly on the back of figures, mount them on cardboard, or scratch or mar them using paper clips. Do not bend figures.

Cite each figure in the text in consecutive order. If a figure has been previously published, in part or in total, acknowledge the original source and submit written permission from the copyright holder to reproduce or adapt the material. Include a source line. Type "Source: Author" on figures that you created. This will help Aspen identify the status of each figure.

Supply a caption for each figure, typed double spaced on a separate sheet from the artwork. Captions should include the figure title, explanatory statements, notes, or keys; and source and permission lines.

Provide a camera-ready copy and a separate electronic file for each piece of artwork.

Do not embed art in your text file.

Tables

Tables should be on a separate page at the end of the manuscript.
Number tables consecutively and supply a brief title for each.

Include explanatory footnotes for all nonstandard abbreviations. For footnotes, use the following symbols, in this sequence: *, †, ‡, §, ||, **, ††, etc.

Cite each table in the text in consecutive order.

If you use data from another published or unpublished source, obtain permission and acknowledge fully. Include a source line. Type "Source: Author" on tables that you created.

Permissions

Authors are responsible for obtaining signed letters from copyright holders granting permission to reprint material being borrowed or adapted from other sources, including previously published material of your own or from Lippincott Williams and Wilkins. This includes forms, checklists, cartoons, text, tables, figures, exhibits, glossaries, and pamphlets; concepts, theories, or formulas used exclusively in a chapter or section; direct quotes from a book or journal that are over 30 percent of a printed page; and all excerpts from newspapers or other short articles. WITHOUT WRITTEN PERMISSION FROM THE COPYRIGHT HOLDER, THESE ITEMS WILL NOT BE USED. Authors are responsible for any permission fees to reprint borrowed material.

Drug Names

The generic (nonproprietary) name of a drug should be used throughout a manuscript. Use the complete name of a drug, including the salt or ester (eg, tetracycline hydrochloride) at first mention and elsewhere in contents involving dosage. When no generic name exists for a drug, give the chemical name or formula or description of the names of the active ingredients.

Compliance with NIH and Other Research Funding Agency Accessibility Requirements

A number of research funding agencies now require or request authors to submit the post-print (the article after peer review and acceptance but not the final published article) to a repository that is accessible online by all without charge. As a service to our authors, LWW will identify to the National Library of Medicine (NLM) articles that require deposit and will transmit the post-print of an article based on research funded in whole or in part by the National Institutes of Health, Wellcome Trust, Howard Hughes Medical Institute, or other funding agencies to PubMed Central. The revised Copyright Transfer Agreement provides the mechanism.

COMPLIANCE WITH NIH AND OTHER RESEARCH FUNDING AGENCY ACCESSIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

A number of research funding agencies now require or request authors to submit the post-print (the article after peer review and acceptance but not the final published article) to a repository that is accessible online by all without charge. Within medical research, three funding agencies in particular have announced such policies:

- The U.S. National Institutes of Health (NIH) requires authors to deposit post-prints based on NIH-funded research in its repository PubMed Central (PMC) within twelve months after publication of the final article in the journal.
- The Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI) requires as a condition of research grants, deposit in PMC, but in its case within six months after publication of the final article.
- The Wellcome Trust requires, as a condition of research grants, deposit in UK PubMed Central within six months after publication of the final article.

As a service to our authors, LWW will identify to National Library of Medicine (NLM) articles that require deposit. This Copyright Transfer Agreement provides the mechanism for identifying such articles. LWW will transmit the post-print of an article based on research funded in whole or in part by one or more of these three agencies to Pub Med Central.

Upon NIH request, it remains the legal responsibility of the author(s) to confirm with NIH the provenance of their manuscript for purposes of deposit.

Author(s) will not deposit their articles themselves.

Author(s) will not alter the post-print already transmitted to NIH.

Author(s) will not authorize the display of the post-print prior to:

- (a) 12 months following publication of the final article, in the case of NIH,
- (b) 6 months following publication of the final article, in the case of Wellcome Trust and HHMI
