

Contents

Acknowledgments	iii
Introduction	vi
List of Journals Cited and Abbreviations	xi
The Dictionary	3

"Scientists are perennially aware that it is best not to trust theory until it is confirmed by evidence. It is equally true, as Eddington pointed out, that it is best not to put too much faith in facts until they have been confirmed by theory."—Robert MacArthur, Challenging Biological Problems.