

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                                                         |           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Contributors                                                                                                                                     | xi |
| Preface                                                                                                                                          | xv |
| 1. Methods to Measure Cytoplasmic and Mitochondrial <math>\text{Ca}^{2+}</math> Concentration Using <math>\text{Ca}^{2+}</math>-Sensitive Dyes   | 1  |
| Sonal Srikanth, Kyun-Do Kim, and Yousang Gwack                                                                                                          |           |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                         | 2         |
| 2. Experimental Components and Considerations                                                                                                           | 7         |
| 3. Isolation and Differentiation of Naïve $\text{CD4}^+$ $\text{CD25}^-$ T Cells from Spleen and Lymph Nodes of Wild-Type and $\text{Orai1}^{-/-}$ Mice | 9         |
| 4. Mitochondrial $\text{Ca}^{2+}$ Measurement                                                                                                           | 14        |
| 5. Data Handling and Processing                                                                                                                         | 16        |
| 6. Notes                                                                                                                                                | 17        |
| 7. Conclusion                                                                                                                                           | 17        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                                                         | 18        |
| References                                                                                                                                              | 18        |
| 2. Methods to Measure Intracellular <math>\text{Ca}^{2+}</math> Fluxes with Organelle-Targeted Aequorin-Based Probes                             | 21 |
| Denis Ottolini, Tito Cali, and Marisa Brini                                                                                                             |           |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                         | 22        |
| 2. Experimental Components and Considerations                                                                                                           | 26        |
| 3. Application Examples                                                                                                                                 | 36        |
| 4. Aequorin Improvement by Fusion with GFP                                                                                                              | 39        |
| 5. Monitoring $\text{Ca}^{2+}$ Fluxes in Living Organism by BRET                                                                                        | 41        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                                                         | 42        |
| References                                                                                                                                              | 42        |
| 3. Measuring baseline <math>\text{Ca}^{2+}</math> levels in subcellular compartments using genetically engineered fluorescent indicators         | 47 |
| Julia M. Hill, Diego De Stefani, Aleck W.E. Jones, Asier Ruiz, Rosario Rizzuto, and Gyorgy Szabadkai                                                    |           |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                         | 48        |
| 2. Evolution of Recombinant $\text{Ca}^{2+}$ Probes and Organelle Targeting                                                                             | 49        |
| 3. Enhancing the Fluorophores                                                                                                                           | 50        |

|                                                                                                                                                |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 4. Modulating $\text{Ca}^{2+}$ -Binding Properties                                                                                             | 58         |
| 5. Developing Organelle Targeting                                                                                                              | 58         |
| 6. Quantitative Considerations of Measurements of Organelle-Targeted Probes                                                                    | 58         |
| 7. Experimental Protocols                                                                                                                      | 60         |
| 8. Semiquantitative Imaging of Basal Mitochondrial $[\text{Ca}^{2+}]$ with a Novel Mitochondria-Targeted GCaMP6m (2mtGCaMP6m)                  | 60         |
| 9. Semiquantitative Imaging of Agonist-Induced Mitochondrial $\text{Ca}^{2+}$ Signals in Primary Neurons Using the Low-Affinity 2mtD4cpv Probe | 62         |
| 10. Semiquantitative Imaging of Basal, Steady-State $[\text{Ca}^{2+}]$ in the ER                                                               | 63         |
| 11. Concluding Remarks                                                                                                                         | 66         |
| References                                                                                                                                     | 66         |
| 4. Autophagy and Autophagic Flux in Tumor Cells                                                                                         | 73  |
| Nicolas Dupont, Idil Orhon, Chantal Bauvy, and Patrice Codogno                                                                                 |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                | 74         |
| 2. Autophagy Initiation and Autophagic Flux                                                                                                    | 75         |
| 3. Autophagic Flux and Degradation                                                                                                             | 82         |
| 4. Conclusion                                                                                                                                  | 86         |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                                                | 87         |
| References                                                                                                                                     | 87         |
| 5. Methods to Assess Autophagy In Situ—Transmission Electron Microscopy Versus Immunohistochemistry                              | 89  |
| Wim Martinet, Jean-Pierre Timmermans, and Guido R.Y. De Meyer                                                                                  |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                | 90         |
| 2. Transmission Electron Microscopy                                                                                                            | 91         |
| 3. Immunohistochemistry                                                                                                                        | 102        |
| 4. Concluding Remarks                                                                                                                          | 111        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                                                | 113        |
| References                                                                                                                                     | 113        |
| 6. Methods to Measure the Enzymatic Activity of PI3Ks                                                                                   | 115 |
| Elisa Ciraolo, Federico Gulluni, and Emilio Hirsch                                                                                             |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                                | 116        |
| 2. Analysis of PI3K Lipid Kinase Activity in Immunoprecipitate                                                                                 | 118        |
| 3. Analysis of the Activity of Small Molecule PI3K Inhibitors                                                                                  | 126        |
| 4. Analysis of the Localized Synthesis of PI3K Lipid Products                                                                                  | 130        |
| 5. Materials                                                                                                                                   | 135        |

|                                                                                                          |            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Acknowledgments                                                                                          | 137        |
| References                                                                                               | 137        |
| 7. Luciferase-Based Reporter to Monitor the Transcriptional Activity of the SIRT3 Promoter | 141 |
| F. Kyle Satterstrom and Marcia C. Haigis                                                                 |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                          | 142        |
| 2. Protocol for Construction of Reporter Plasmid                                                         | 143        |
| 3. Assaying SIRT3 Promoter Activity with the Construct                                            | 153        |
| 4. Verifying Reporter Results with Complementary Methods                                                 | 156        |
| 5. Summary                                                                                               | 161        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                          | 161        |
| References                                                                                               | 161        |
| 8. Metabolomic Profiling of Cultured Cancer Cells                                                 | 165 |
| Marie Scoazec, Sylvere Durand, Alexis Chery, Lorenzo Galluzzi, and Guido Kroemer                         |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                          | 166        |
| 2. Cell Culture, Treatments, and Sample Collection                                                       | 168        |
| 3. Chromatography, Mass Spectrometry, and Data Analysis                                                  | 170        |
| 4. Concluding Remarks                                                                                    | 172        |
| 5. Notes                                                                                                 | 173        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                          | 176        |
| References                                                                                               | 176        |
| 9. Pulsed Stable Isotope-Resolved Metabolomic Studies of Cancer Cells                             | 179 |
| Matthias Pietzke and Stefan Kempa                                                                        |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                          | 181        |
| 2. Experimental Procedures                                                                               | 185        |
| 3. Data Analysis                                                                                         | 189        |
| 4. Outlook                                                                                               | 196        |
| References                                                                                               | 196        |
| 10. Single-Cell Imaging for the Study of Oncometabolism                                           | 199 |
| Aleš Svatoš and Alfredo J. Ibáñez                                                                        |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                          | 200        |
| 2. Methods                                                                                               | 203        |

|                                                                                                    |            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 3. MAMS Arrays                                                                                     | 211        |
| References                                                                                         | 214        |
| 11. Study of Cellular Oncometabolism via Multidimensional Protein Identification Technology | 217 |
| Claire Aukim-Hastie and Spiros D. Garbis                                                           |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                    | 218        |
| 2. Sample Protocol                                                                                 | 222        |
| 3. Data Processing                                                                                 | 227        |
| 4. Example Applications of MuDPIT                                                                  | 228        |
| 5. Summary                                                                                         | 232        |
| References                                                                                         | 233        |
| 12. In Vivo Quantitative Proteomics for the Study of Oncometabolism                  | 235 |
| Steven Reid, Juan Ramon Hernandez-Fernaund, and Sara Zanivan                                       |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                    | 236        |
| 2. Sample Preparation                                                                              | 239        |
| 3. MS Sample Preparation                                                                           | 243        |
| 4. Instruments                                                                                     | 250        |
| 5. MS Data Analysis                                                                                | 252        |
| 6. Additional Considerations                                                                       | 256        |
| 7. Conclusions                                                                                     | 256        |
| References                                                                                         | 258        |
| 13. Metabolomic Profiling of Neoplastic Lesions in Mice                                     | 261 |
| Xiaojie Lu, Li-Juan Ji, and Jin-Lian Chen                                                          |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                    | 262        |
| 2. Metabolic Profiling and Cancer Biology                                                          | 263        |
| 3. Techniques Applied in Metabolomic Profiling of Neoplastic Lesions in Mice                       | 264        |
| 4. Conclusion                                                                                      | 272        |
| References                                                                                         | 272        |
| 14. Metabolomic Profiling of Tumor-Bearing Mice                                             | 275 |
| Hiromi I. Wettersten, Sheila Ganti, and Robert H. Weiss                                            |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                    | 276        |
| 2. Mouse Models                                                                                    | 277        |
| 3. Sample Preparation and Mass Spectrometry Analysis                                               | 281        |

|                                                                                                                                    |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 4. Statistics                                                                                                                      | 289        |
| 5. Biomarker Validation                                                                                                            | 291        |
| 6. Summary                                                                                                                         | 293        |
| References                                                                                                                         | 293        |
| 15. Metabolomic Studies of Patient Material by High-Resolution Magic Angle Spinning Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectroscopy | 297 |
| Hector Keun                                                                                                                        |            |
| 1. MAS-NMR Spectroscopy as a Tool for Metabolic Profiling                                                                          | 298        |
| 2. MAS-NMR Versus Solution-State NMR Spectroscopy of Tumors                                                                        | 299        |
| 3. MAS-NMR Tumor Profiling in Clinical Studies                                                                                     | 301        |
| 4. Metabolic Perturbations in Tumors Detected by MAS-NMR Spectroscopy                                                              | 303        |
| 5. Protocol for the Analysis of Tissue by $^1\text{H}$ MAS-NMR Spectroscopy                                                        | 305        |
| References                                                                                                                         | 308        |
| 16. Analysis of Metabolomic Profiling Data Acquired on GC-MS                                                                | 315 |
| Imhoi Koo, Xiaoli Wei, and Xiang Zhang                                                                                             |            |
| 1. Introduction                                                                                                                    | 316        |
| 2. Spectrum Deconvolution                                                                                                          | 318        |
| 3. Metabolite Identification                                                                                                       | 318        |
| 4. Metabolite Quantification                                                                                                       | 319        |
| 5. Association Network Analysis                                                                                                    | 322        |
| 6. Metabolic Pathway Analysis                                                                                                      | 322        |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                                    | 323        |
| References                                                                                                                         | 323        |
| Author Index                                                                                                                | 325 |
| Subject Index                                                                                                               | 349 |