

Contents

Preface to the First Edition vii

Preface to the Second Edition xi

Acknowledgments xv

Part I Questions and Clues 1

- 1 History Hidden in the Landscape 3
- 2 Historical Records and Collections 18
- 3 Field Studies: Bringing Historical Records Down to Earth 34
- 4 The Sedimentary Record 48

Part II The Diversity of Human Interactions with the Natural World 61

- 5 Fire: Mimicking Nature 63
- 6 Extending Species' Ranges 83
- 7 Harvesting Natural Resources 104

- 8 Agriculture and Its Residual Effects 126
9 Patterns of Human Settlement and Industrialization 150

Part III Contributions of Historical Ecology to Understanding Ecological Issues 173

- 10 Diversity and Species Extinctions 175
11 Biospheric Sustainability in a Changing World 197

Conclusion

Toward the Future: Research and Applications 219

Notes 233

References 251

Index 299