

CONTENTS

|                       |      |
|-----------------------|------|
| List of figures       | xi   |
| Notes on contributors | xiii |
| Acknowledgements      | xvii |

PART I

Setting the scene 1

- |                                                    |   |
|----------------------------------------------------|---|
| 1 Invasion ecologies: the nature/culture challenge | 3 |
| Jodi Frawley and Iain McCalman              |   |

PART II

Invasion and the Anthropocene 15

- |                                                                                                          |    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 2 Back story: migration, assimilation and invasion in the nineteenth century                             | 17 |
| Harriet Ritvo                                                                                     |    |
| 3 Fragments for a postcolonial critique of the Anthropocene: invasion biology and environmental security | 31 |
| Gilbert Caluya                                                                                    |    |
| 4 Resilience in the Anthropocene: a biography                                                            | 45 |
| Libby Robin                                                                                       |    |

|                 |                                                                                                      |            |
|-----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 5               | Landscapes of the Anthropocene: from dominion to dependence?                                         | 64         |
|                 | Eric Pawson and Andreas Aagaard Christensen                                                   |            |
| PART III |                                                                                                      |            |
|                 | Everyday life in invasion ecologies                                                           | 85  |
| 6               | Living in a weedy future: insights from the garden                                                   | 87         |
|                 | Lesley Head                                                                                   |            |
| 7               | Experiments in the rangelands: white bodies and native invaders                                      | 100        |
|                 | Cameron Muir                                                                                  |            |
| 8               | Thorny problems: industrial pastoralism and managing 'country' in northwest Queensland               | 116        |
|                 | Haripriya Rangan, Anna Wilson and Christian Kull                                              |            |
| PART IV  |                                                                                                      |            |
|                 | Ecological politics of imagining otherwise                                                    | 135 |
| 9               | Prickly pears and Martian weeds: ecological invasion narratives in history and fiction               | 137        |
|                 | Christina Alt                                                                                 |            |
| 10              | Cane toads: animality and ecology in Mark Lewis's documentary films                                  | 149        |
|                 | Morgan Richards                                                                               |            |
| 11              | Wolvogs, pigeons and Crakers: invasion of the bodysplices in Margaret Atwood's Oryx and Crake | 166        |
|                 | Peter Marks                                                                                   |            |
| PART V   |                                                                                                      |            |
|                 | Unruly natives and exotics                                                                    | 179 |
| 12              | Invasion ontologies: venom, visibility and the imagined histories of arthropods                      | 181        |
|                 | Peter Hobbins                                                                                 |            |

|    |                                                                                     |     |
|----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 13 | Naturalising Australian trees in South Africa: climate, exotics and experimentation | 196 |
|    | Brett M. Bennett                                                             |     |
| 14 | Remaking wetlands: rice fields and ducks in the Murrumbidgee River region, NSW      | 215 |
|    | Emily O'Gorman                                                               |     |
| 15 | Invasion of the crocodiles                                                          | 239 |
|    | Simon Pooley                                                                 |     |
|    | Index                                                                        | 256 |

|      |                                                                                                        |     |
|------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 2.1  | Canals                                                                                                 | 19  |
| 2.2  | Swampy                                                                                                 | 27  |
| 3.1  | Banks, Promenade, location and place names                                                             | 68  |
| 3.2  | Clearing the bush: estimates of its extent in 1839, 1860 and 1880                                      | 70  |
| 3.3  | Far-named and shape of Sydney harbour                                                                  | 72  |
| 3.4  | Exports of goat wool from New Zealand, 1873–1924                                                       | 74  |
| 3.5  | A cockfishing gill at work                                                                             | 76  |
| 3.6  | Map of impacted areas on Banks Peninsula in 1813                                                       | 78  |
| 3.7  | Location of the Hogue River in western New South Wales                                                 | 101 |
| 3.8  | A photo of sand and a landscape of 'stark country' near Loddon                                         | 105 |
| 4.1  | Saltbush collected under the management of Robert Pascoe in 1881                                       | 110 |
| 4.2  | Captain John Carter Ray, Thompson's painting and the album                                             | 112 |
| 12.1 | Sketches of an Edwardian 'swamp'                                                                       | 182 |
| 12.2 | Numbers of kangaroos in Alice and Phoenix                                                              | 185 |
| 14.1 | An early tourism map of the Murrumbidgee Irrigation Area                                               | 216 |
| 14.2 | Pacific Black Duck described by J. R. Kingham                                                          | 217 |
| 15.1 | Barnes and Humphrey's killing an alligator on the Home Store Flats near Carnarvon Park, Victoria River | 219 |
| 15.2 | Salwater crocodile attacks on humans (water-pipe road) in Australia, 1971–2010                         | 236 |
| 15.3 | Seasonality of salwater crocodile attacks in northern Australia (1971–2010)                            | 257 |