

CONTENTS

|                                                                         |              |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| Preface                                                          | pages    vii |
| Chapter I Introduction                                                  | 1-15         |
| II The Movement of a Cilium                                             | 16-64        |
| III Ciliary Currents                                                    | 65-84        |
| IV The Force exerted and the Work done by Cilia                         | 85-94        |
| V The Relation of Ciliary Movement to Ionic Equilibria                  | 95-104       |
| VI The Metabolism of Ciliated Cells and the Nature of the Ciliary Cycle | 105-116      |
| VII Metachronal Rhythm and Ciliary Control                              | 117-129      |
| VIII The Distribution of Cilia and the Functions which they perform     | 130-152      |
| Bibliography                                                            | 153-160      |
| Subject Index                                                    | 161, 162     |