

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1

ULRIKE KIRCHBERGER

PART I | The Nation State and the Unpredictability of Nature

The Transformation of an Ecological Policy 19

Acclimatization of Cuban Tobacco Varieties and Public Scandalization in the French Empire, c. 1860–1880

ALEXANDER VAN WICKEREN

Securing Resources for the Industries of Wilhelmine Germany 39

Tropical Agriculture and Phytopathology in Cameroon and Togo, 1884–1914

SAMUEL ELEAZAR WENDT

French Mandate Syria and Lebanon 61

Land, Ecological Interventions, and the “Modern” State

IDIR OUAHES

PART II | Institutions and Professions

Science, to Understand the Abundance of Plants and Trees 85

The First Ottoman Natural History Museum and Herbarium, 1836–1848

SEMIH CELIK

Inventing Colonial Agronomy 103

Buitenzorg and the Transition from the Western to the Eastern Model of Colonial Agriculture, 1880s–1930s

FLORIAN WAGNER

Discovery and Patriarchy 129

Professionalization of Botany and the Distancing of Women and "Others"

CAREY MCCORMACK

PART III | Animal Agency

Animal Skinners 151

A Transcolonial Network and the Formation of West African Zoology

STEPHANIE ZEHNLE

Adapting to Change in Australian Estuaries 176

Oysters in the Techno-Fix Cycles of Colonial Capitalism

JODI FRAWLEY

Brumbies (Equus ferus caballus) as Colonizers of the Esperance

Mallee-Recherche Bioregion in Western Australia 197

NICOLE Y. CHALMER

Epilogue 224

A Global History of Species Introduction and Invasion:

Reconciling Historical and Ecological Paradigms

BRETT M. BENNETT

Contributors 247

Index 249