

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Introduction. Landesque Capital: What is the Concept Good for? Mats Widgren and N. Thomas Håkansson	9
1. Economics and the Process of Making Farmland William E. Doolittle	31
2. Capital-esque Landscapes: Long-Term Histories of Enduring Landscape Modifications Kathleen D. Morrison	49
3. Taro Terraces, Chiefdoms and Malaria: Explaining Landesque Capital Formation in Solomon Islands Tim Bayliss-Smith and Edvard Hviding	75
4. World Systems Terraces: External Exchange and the Formation of Landesque Capital among the Ifugao, the Philippines N. Thomas Håkansson	98
5. Large-Scale Investments in Water Management in Europe and China, 1000-1800 Janken Myrdal	117
6. "Stonescape": Farmers' Differential Willingness to Invest in Landesque Capital in Nineteenth Century Sweden Henrik Svensson	141
7. The Social Life of Landesque Capital and a Tanzanian Case Study Michael Sheridan	155
8. The Temporality of Landesque Capital: Cultivation and the Routines of Pokot Life Matthew I.J. Davies	172
9. Irrigated Fields are Wives: Indigenous Irrigation in Marakwet, Kenya Wilhelm Östberg	197

10. Correlating Landesque Capital and Ethno-Political Integration in Pre-Columbian South America Alf Hornborg, Love Eriksen and Ragnheiður Bogadóttir	215
11. From Terraces to Trees: Ancient and Historical Landscape Changes in Southern Peru Gregory Zaro	232
12. The Antithesis of Degraded Land: Toward a Greener Conceptualization of Landesque Capital Lowe Börjeson	251
Postscript: The Future of Landesque Capital Tim Bayliss-Smith	269
Index	275
About the Authors and Editors	279