Foreword		xi
	Daniel TL Shek
Section I: Research problems
Chapter I	Fundamental problems of biology, medicine and neuro-psychology	3
Chapter II	Matter, life and consciousness	9
Chapter III	Brain-mind and body-mind	17
Section II: Understanding life and biologic information
Chapter IV	Living cell information system	29
Chapter V	Can biochemistry explain morphogenesis?	37
Chapter VI	The origin of biological and cellular order	47
Section III: Understanding energy and deeply structured quantum chemical fields
Chapter VII	A spiral fractal model of fine structure of physical energy	61
Chapter VIII	A theory of "deep" quantum chemistry and cell consciousness	69
Section IV: Understanding consciousness and human brain function
Chapter IX	Wholeness of man, his consciousness and collective consciousness	87
Chapter X	The origin of metamorphosis	95
Chapter XI	The structure of the cerebral cortex	109
Chapter XII	Structure and function of the human brain	119
Chapter XIII	Sound, music and our understanding of the human brain	143
Section V: Understanding pathogenesis and salutogenesis
Chapter XIV	Degeneration and regeneration of existence	163

Section VI:	Implications for medical disciplines
Chapter XV	Biochemistry and mental diseases	177
Chapter XVI	The role of adult human metamorphosis in spontaneous recovery	193
Chapter XVII	Jerne's anti-idiotypic network theory	201
Chapter XVIII	A theory for immune system regulation (The "self-nonself discrimination")	207
Section VII:	"Energetic crisis" and "healing crisis"
Chapter XIX	The etiology of somatic diseases	219
Chapter XX	A theory for accelerated, spontaneous existential healing (salutogenesis): Human adult metamorphosis	233
Section VIII:	Understanding evolution
Chapter XXI	A theory of top-down macro-evolution and metamorphosis	247
Chapter XXII	Induction of Antonovsky salutogenesis can result in spontaneous healing and recovery	253
Section IX:	Acknowledgements
Chapter XXIII	About the authors	267
Chapter XXIV	About the quality of life research center in Copenhagen, Denmark	269
Chapter XXV	About the National Institute of Child Health and Human development in Israel	275
Chapter XVI	About the book series "Health and human development"	279
