

Table of contents

Morten Tønnessen and Kadri Tüür – The semiotics of animal representations. Introduction	7
--	---

PART I: FROM SHEPHERDING TO COLONISATION

Louise Westling – The zoosemiotics of sheep herding with dogs	33
David Rothenberg – Avian aesthetics: The representation of bird song from music to science	53
Christos Lynteris – Speaking marmots, deaf hunters: Animal-human semiotic breakdown as the imagined cause of the Manchurian pneumonic plague of 1910–11	75

PART II: FROM ILLUSTRATION TO SHOW

Adam Dodd – Entomological rhetoric and the fabrication of the insect world	97
Larissa Budde – “Back on the menu”: Humans, insectoid aliens and the creation of ecophobia in science fiction	125
Graham Huggan – Attenborough’s natural history films: The evolutionary epic	159

PART III: FROM LIFE WRITING TO NATURE WRITING

- Taija Kaarlenkaski* – Communicating with the cow:
Human–animal interaction in written narratives 191
- Maki Eguchi* – The representation of sheep in modern Japanese literature from Natsume Sōseki to Murakami Haruki 217
- Sandra Mänty* – Animal representation in the Harry Potter
series 239
- Kadri Tüür* – Like a fish out of water: Literary representations of fish 263

PART IV: FROM MIND TO VALUE

- Wendy Wheeler* – Thought without concepts in Angels and Insects: A.S. Byatt as crypto-biosemiotician 291
- W. John Coletta* – A Peircean semiotic model for describing the anti-Oedipal structure of “humanimal” selves 313
- Ralph R. Acampora* – The (proto-)ethical significance of semiosis: When and how does one become somebody who matters? 343
- List of contributors 363
- Index 367