

This ivory mammoth figurine found at the Vogelherd Cave in southwestern Germany is one of the earliest known figurative artworks.

A DYNAMIC NEW EDITION REFLECTING THE WORK IN A DYNAMIC FIELD

The study of human evolution is a changing field, and the Sixth Edition of How Humans Evolved has been designed for this landscape. This edition has been completely updated to reflect the exciting advances in our understanding of genetics and the fossil record. Current research highlights that are new to the Sixth Edition include:

- ⬆ NEW coverage on locomotor patterns in Miocene apes and the evolution of bipedality in Chapter 9
- ⬆ NEWLY RELEASED information concerning Ardipithecus in Chapter 10
- ⬆ EXTENSIVELY REVISED coverage of the mapping of the Neanderthal genome in Chapter 13
- ⬆ NEW genome-wide association studies that identify genes affecting phenotypic traits in Chapter 14

With its unique blend of evolutionary theory, population genetics, and behavioral ecology, How Humans Evolved continues to be the most contemporary and complete introduction to physical anthropology.

THE NORTON PHYSICAL ANTHROPOLOGY IN ACTION DVD

This unique DVD for instructor use features over 80 film clips from across the discipline with an emphasis on paleoanthropology and primatology. Perfect for the classroom, these videos help students see and think like anthropologists and make it easy for instructors to illustrate key concepts and to spark classroom discussion. Each DVD contains a reference booklet with clip descriptions written by Tracy K. Betsinger of the State University of New York, Oneonta.

FOR STUDENTS

StudySpace www.norton.com/studyspace

This free and open website provides a rich array of multimedia resources and review materials within a proven, assignment-driven, study plan. With chapter summaries and outlines, flashcards with audio pronunciations, quizzes, and ebook links, StudySpace has what students need to succeed.

Ebook nortonebooks.com

How Humans Evolved is also available as a low-cost ebook, with links to useful review tools in StudySpace. With the Norton ebook, students can electronically highlight text, use sticky notes, search, print, and work with fully zoomable images from the book.

Cover photograph: © Nick Conard / Tübingen University
Cover design: Leah Clark

W. W. NORTON New York • London
www.norton.com

