

Contents

PREFACE

1 Social Psychology: Definition, History, and Research 2

Social Psychology: What Is It? 2

The Beginnings of Social Psychology 3

Assumptions about Social Behavior—Contributions of Philosophy and the Natural Sciences 6

The Domain of Social Psychology 8

Organizing Social Psychology 8

Social Psychology Research: The Scientific Study of Behavior 10

A Consumer's View 10

Starting Social Psychology Research: Where Do Research Ideas Come From? 10

Research Methods for Understanding Social Behavior 12

The Experimental Approach to Research 12

Internal Threats to Experimental Studies 13

Possible Problems with Experimental Studies 16

Nonexperimental Approaches to Research 18

Naturalistic Observation 19

Participant Observation 19

Interviews and Questionnaires 20

Possible Limits of the Nonexperimental Approach 21

Correlation and Causation 21

The Ethical Study of Social Behavior 23

Using This Book: A Few Words about Special Features and Organization 26

Chapter Summary 26

Summary Questions: Introduction to Social Psychology 27

Vocabulary Terms 27

2 Perspectives on Social Behavior: The Example of Altruism

30

Introduction and Chapter Overview	30
The Cultural Perspective	30
Culture and Theories of Social Behavior	30
Culture and Social Psychology	31
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	34
The Life-Span Perspective	34
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	34
Compelling Experiences and Situations Influencing Social Behavior	35
The Individual Perspective	36
Feelings and Moods	36
Personal Characteristics	37
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	39
The Situation Perspective	40
Identifying the Need for Help	41
The Influence of Bystanders and Victims	43
The Costs and Benefits of Helping	48
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	50
The Social-Group Perspective	50
Social Roles	50
Social Norms	51
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	53
Putting the Perspectives Together	53
Social Psychology in Action	55
The Context Perspectives	55
Experiential and Situational Influences	56
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	58
Chapter Summary	58
Vocabulary Terms	59

3 Social Affiliation: Being with Others

62

Introduction and Chapter Overview	62
The Life-Span Perspective: Attachment and Early Experience	62
The Importance of Early Social Experience	64
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	65

The Cultural Perspective: Differences in Loving and Caring	65
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	67
The Individual Perspective: Reasons for and Consequences of Loneliness in Contemporary Society	67
Who Is Lonely?	67
Reasons for Loneliness	67
The Consequences of Loneliness	71
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	74
The Situation Perspective: When Do We Affiliate?	74
Motives for Affiliation	74
Patterns of Affiliation	76
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	84
The Social-Group Perspective: Committed Relationships	84
Levels of Relationships	84
Romantic Love	84
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	90
Social Psychology in Action: Dealing with the Problems of Loneliness and Loss	90
Children and Divorce	90
Bereavement: Reacting to the Loss of a Loved One	93
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	96
Chapter Summary	96
Vocabulary Terms	97

4 Self-Perception: Theories about Who We Are 100

Chapter Overview	100
The Cultural Perspective: Self-Orientation	101
Competitiveness	102
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	104
The Life-Span Perspective: Changes and Consistencies in Identity	104
Adult Identity Statuses	104
Other Areas of Identity	106
Identity Achievement: Not for Men Only	107
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	109
The Individual Perspective: Self-Evaluations	109
Self-Esteem: Individual Differences that Make a Difference	109
Causes of High and Low Self-Esteem?	109
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	118

The Situation Perspective: Self-Presentation and Awareness	118
Self-Description and the Situation	118
Self-Awareness: Situations That Make Self an Object	120
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	123
The Social-Group Perspective: Experience and Self Theories	124
Social Identity	124
Significance of Others to Identify?	124
Many Identities—Many Significant Others	125
Significant Others and Personal Characteristics	125
Accuracy of Identity Images	125
Influence of Others on Identity	127
Negotiating Social Identity	129
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	130
Social Psychology in Action	131
Shyness: A Widespread Problem of Self-Image	131
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	132
Chapter Summary	132
Vocabulary Terms	133

5 Social Perception and Understanding 136

Chapter Overview and Introduction: The Context of Social Perception 136

The Cultural Perspective: Variations in Social Justice	137
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	138

The Life-Span Perspective: Developing Theories about People 138

Moral Development	138
Morality and Behavior	140
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	142

The Individual Perspective: Impression Formation and Causal Inference 142

Constructing and Reconstructing Our Impressions of Others	142
The Power of First Impressions	146
Causal Attributions: From Acts to Dispositions	147
Errors in the Attribution Process	150
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	153

The Situation Perspective: Social Perception in Institutional Settings 153

Institutional Categories: Social Perception in Health Care	155
Individual Values and Institutional Functioning	157
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	159

The Social-Group Perspective: Perception of Group Differences	159
Group Stereotypes	159
Historical Changes in Group Stereotypes	160
Origins of Group Stereotypes	161
Self-Perpetuating Group Stereotypes: A Final Word	163
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	165
Social Psychology in Action: Discretion and the Law	166
The Principle of Discretion	166
Police: Apprehension and Arrest	166
Prosecution: Plea Bargaining and Conviction	167
Eyewitness Testimony	168
Jury Selection and Decision Making	170
Discretion: Individualized Justice or Arbitrary Power?	173
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	174
Chapter Summary	174
Vocabulary Terms	175

6 Attitudes, Beliefs, Opinions, and Values: How We Interpret Social Experience 178

Chapter Overview: Attitudes as Social Perspectives	178
The Cultural Perspective: The Social Context of Attitudes and Values	179
Cultural Interpretations of Individual Experience	179
Cultural Contradictions	180
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	180
The Life-Span Perspective: Attitudes across the Life-Span	180
The Stability of Attitudes: Is There Life after 30?	180
Sources of Life Satisfaction: Attitudes toward Work and Family	182
Selective Exposure or Fixed Commitments?	182
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	183
The Individual Perspective: Variations in the Organization and Function of Attitudes	183
The Function of Attitudes	184
Cognitive Foundations: An Ordered World	185
Emotional Foundations: Authoritarianism—A Study of Personality and Social/Political Beliefs	188
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	192
The Situation Perspective: When Attitudes Change	193
Resistance to Change	193
Central-Peripheral Attitudes and Routes to Change	193
The Peripheral Route to Attitude Change	194

Central Routes to Attitude Change: The Power of Direct Experience	199
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	200
The Social-Group Perspective: Life Circumstances and Social Background	202
The Influence of Others: Rational Comparison and Emotional Support	202
Political Behavior and Party Identification	203
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	204
Social Psychology in Action: Mass Media—Reflection or Creator of Attitudes and Values?	205
TV Watching as Entertainment	206
Reinforcing Existing Attitudes	206
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	208
Chapter Summary	208
Vocabulary Terms	209

7 Communication and Interaction 212

Introduction and Chapter Overview	212
The Life-Span Perspective	213
Learning When to Say What to Whom	213
Social Interaction in Later Life	213
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	214
The Cultural Perspective	215
Language and Human Culture	215
Culture, Language, and Thought	216
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	220
The Individual Perspective: Motives for Communication and Interaction	220
The Marketplace of Interaction	220
Limits of the Marketplace Analogy	220
Rumors and Gossip	221
Functions of Hearsay Communications	222
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	224
The Situation Perspective: Coordinating Interactions	224
Reciprocity and Social Interaction: The Example of Self-Disclosure	225
Nonverbal Behaviors and Interaction	232
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	241

The Social-Group Perspective: Networks and Group Processes	241
Communication Networks	241
Group Cohesiveness and Social Behavior	246
Group Processes and Productivity	247
Individual Polarization and Group Interactions	250
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	251
Social Psychology in Action: Problems of Communication and Interaction	251
History of Sensitivity Groups	252
Are Sensitivity Groups Effective?	252
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	254
Chapter Summary	255
Vocabulary Terms	255

8 Aggression and Violence 258

Chapter Overview	258
The Cultural Perspective	258
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	261
The Life-Span Perspective	261
Aggression as Learned Social Behavior	261
Childhood Experience and Aggression	261
Aggressiveness across the Life-Span	262
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	263
The Individual Perspective	264
The Personality of Aggression-prone Individuals	264
Emotional States and Motives in Harming Others	266
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	275
The Situation Perspective: Noise, Heat, and Other Environmental Factors	276
Noise	276
Heat	277
Other Environmental Factors	278
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	279
The Social-Group Perspective: Institutionally Sanctioned Violence	280
What is Sanctioned Violence?	280
How Is Sanctioned Violence Possible?	280
Reducing Sanctioned Violence	290
Bargaining and Negotiating: Resolving Social Conflicts	291
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	293

Social Psychology in Action: Violence and the American Family	293
Child Abuse	294
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	296
Chapter Summary	296
Vocabulary Terms	297

9 Social Control and Influence 300

Introduction and Chapter Overview	300
The Cultural Perspective: Who's in Control?	301
Authority and Commitment	303
A New Populism?	305
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	305
The Life-Span Perspective: Learning to Conform	305
Development, Guilt, and Conformity	307
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	307
The Individual Perspective: Internal Dynamics of Social Influence	308
Social Facilitation	308
Conformity: Public Compliance and Private Acceptance	309
Conformity and Personality	310
Group Size, Consensus, and Attraction to the Group	311
Minorities and Majorities	316
Extreme Conformity: Deindividuation	317
Summary Questions: the Individual Perspective	318
The Situation Perspective: Extreme Control through Brainwashing and Thought Reform	319
The Legacy of Brainwashing	319
Effectiveness of Brainwashing	321
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	327
The Social-Group Perspective: Power and Leadership	327
The Basis of Social Power	327
Does Power Corrupt?	329
Enjoying Power: The Machiavellian Personality	330
Becoming a Leader: Personality or Situation?	330
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	332
Social Psychology in Action: Law, Punishment, and Deterrence	333
The Deterrence Model	333
Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action	337
Chapter Summary	337
Vocabulary Terms	339

10 Environment and Population 342Introduction and Chapter Overview 342*The Cultural Perspective: Personal Space 342

Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective 343

The Life-Span Perspective: Personal Space 343

Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective 346

The Individual Perspective: Maintaining the Bubble of Personal Space 346

Personal Preferences for Social Space 346

Interpersonal Relations and Personal Space—Similarity, Attraction, and Friendship 348

Hostility, Stress, and Personal Space 348

Reactions to Intrusion on Personal Space 349

Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective 351

The Situation Perspective: Territoriality and Environment 351

Defending Territories 353

Environmental Settings 355

Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective 367

The Social-Group Perspective: Population Growth and Family Planning 367

Population Growth as a Social Psychological Issue 369

The Value of Children 369

Reducing Population Growth 371

Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective 375

Social Psychology in Action: Environmental Threats and Problems 375

Persuasive Appeals 376

Perception of Risk 377

Social Traps and the "Commons Dilemma" 378

Summary Questions: Social Psychology in Action 379

Chapter Summary 380

Vocabulary Terms 381

11 Social Change and Stability 384Introduction and Chapter Overview 384

Defining Social Change 385

The Paradox of Social Change 385

Social Science Approaches to Social Change 385

Anthropological Approach: Nativism and Acculturation	386
Sociological Approach: Feminism and Social Movements	387
Psychological Approach: The Individual and Modernization	390
Challenges for Consideration: Individual Behavior and Rapid Change	393
Summary Questions: Social Science Approaches to Social Change	395
The Life-Span Perspective: What Age Groups Are Most Affected by Change?	395
Family Moves and Effects on Youth	395
The Elderly and Rapid Social Change	397
Summary Questions: The Life-Span Perspective	399
The Cultural Perspective: Nativism, Traditionalism, and Cultural Fusion	400
Summary Questions: The Cultural Perspective	402
The Individual Perspective: Social Change and Psychological Orientations	402
Seeking Change	402
Achievement and Change	406
Summary Questions: The Individual Perspective	407
The Situation Perspective	408
Coping and Adapting to Change	408
Acculturative Stress	409
Summary Questions: The Situation Perspective	409
The Social-Group Perspective: Attributing Social Change to Others	410
Sociocultural Lag	410
Rapid Change and Ethnocide	411
Summary Questions: The Social-Group Perspective	413
Social Psychology in Action: The Elderly—Perceived Control and a Healthy Life	413
Life Events and Stress	414
Life Change and Personal Control	416
Enhancing Perceived Control	417
Chapter Summary	418
Vocabulary Terms	419
GLOSSARY	420
REFERENCES	426
NAME INDEX	481
SUBJECT INDEX	491