

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
1. Man: A Holistic Approach	1
2. Human Behavior: A Dynamic Approach	7
Behavior Is Meaningful	8
Emergence of Personality	10
Conflict	20
Anxiety	21
Defense Mechanisms	26
Self-Awareness	29
3. Psychological Disequilibrium: Causes and Effects	35
Forces Which Disrupt Psychological Equilibrium	37
Forces Arising from Biological Needs	37
Forces Arising from Immediate Specific Needs	38
Revival of Similar Anxiety-Producing Experiences ...	40
Threats to Body Image	43
Organic Brain Impairment	47
Thoughts of Death and Dying	49
4. Psychological Comfort: Nursing Guidelines	56
The Person Who Is Newly Admitted	58
Denial: An Initial Response to Illness	59

Noncomforting Nurse Responses	61
The Nurse Shows Dislike for the Patient	61
The Nurse Overemphasizes Youth and Beauty	62
The Nurse Gives False Assurance	64
The Nurse Is Indecisive	68
The Nurse's Needs Preempt the Patient's	71
Tools for Studying Nurse Responses	74
The Person Who Is Anxious	78
Acknowledgment: A Technique for
Identifying Anxiety	79
Methods for Reducing Anxiety	81
The Person Who Expresses Anxiety Through
Bodily Symptoms	82
The Person Who Is in Pain	84
Methods for Reducing Pain	85
The Person Who Is Depressed	87
Methods for Alleviating Depression	89
The Person Who Is Disoriented and Confused	91
The Person Who Loses Former Capability	96
The Dying Person	99
 Index	 105