

Contents

Part I Overview of Functional Nucleic Acids and Their Analytical Applications

- 1 Introductory Remarks ..... 3
Yi Lu and Yingfu Li
- 2 Natural Functional Nucleic Acids: Ribozymes and Riboswitches ..... 11
Renaud Tremblay, Jérôme Mulhbachter, Simon Blouin,
J. Carlos Penedo, and Daniel A. Lafontaine
- 3 Artificial Functional Nucleic Acids: Aptamers,
Ribozymes, and Deoxyribozymes Identified by In Vitro Selection ..... 47
Scott K. Silverman

Part II Functional Nucleic Acid Sensors Based on Different Transduction Principles

- 4 Fluorescent Aptamer Sensors ..... 111
Hui William Chen, Youngmi Kim, Ling Meng, Prabodhika Mallikaratchy, Jennifer Martin, Zhiwen Tang,
Dihua Shangguan, Meghan O'Donoghue, and Weihong Tan
- 5 Fluorescent Ribozyme and Deoxyribozyme Sensors ..... 131
William Chiuman and Yingfu Li
- 6 Colorimetric and Fluorescent Biosensors Based on Directed Assembly of Nanomaterials with Functional DNA ..... 155
Juewen Liu and Yi Lu

|                                                                                            |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 7 Electrochemical Approaches to Aptamer-Based Sensing .....                         | 179 |
| Yi Xiao and Kevin W. Plaxco                                                                |            |
| 8 Amplified DNA Biosensors .....                                                    | 199 |
| Itamar Willner, Bella Shlyahovsky, Bilha Willner, and Maya Zayats                          |            |
| Part III Other Emerging Analytical Applications                                     |            |
| 9 Aptamers in Affinity Separations: Capillary Electrophoresis .....                 | 255 |
| Jeffrey W. Guthrie, Yuanhua Shao, and X. Chris Le                                          |            |
| 10 Aptamers in Affinity Separations: Stationary Separation.....                     | 271 |
| Corinne Ravelet and Eric Peyrin                                                            |            |
| 11 Aptamer Microarrays .....                                                        | 287 |
| Heather Angel Syrett, James R. Collett, and Andrew D. Ellington                            |            |
| 12 The Use of Functional Nucleic Acids in Solid-PhaseFluorimetric Assays ..... | 309 |
| Nicholas Rupcich, Razvan Nutiu, Yutu Shen, Yingfu Li,and John D. Brennan               |            |
| 13 Functional Nucleic Acid Sensors as Screening Tools .....                         | 343 |
| Andrea Rentmeister and Michael Famulok                                                     |            |
| 14 Nucleic Acids for Computation.....                                               | 355 |
| Joanne Macdonald and Milan N. Stojanovic                                                   |            |
| 15 DNazymes in DNA Nanomachines and DNA Analysis .....                              | 377 |
| Yu He, Ye Tian, Yi Chen and Chengde Mao                                                    |            |
| Index.....                                                                          | 389 |