

Contents

Preface	ix
1: Genetic engineering: Past and present as prelude to the future	1
A. Fractionous problems and ethical and policy decision-making	1
B. Past: Genetic medicine, eugenics, reproductive medicine and counseling	5
1. Genetic medicine	6
2. Eugenics	11
3. Reproductive medicine and counseling	15
C. Present: The prospect of genetic engineering, the gathering debate, fractionous problems and decision-making	17
1. The prospect of genetic engineering	17
2. The gathering debate	23
3. Fractionous problems and decision-making	26
2: Utilitarianism: Engineering to maximize welfare	29
A. Juanita, Louis, and Dr Bentheme	31
B. Utilitarianism: Justification, impartial welfare maximization, and action guidance	43
1. Justification	43
2. Impartial welfare maximization	47
i. Welfare	47
ii. The welfare of future persons	50
iii. Maximization, motivation, and decision-making	52
iv. Impartiality	55
v. Utilitarian and consequentialist perspectives on genetic engineering	56
3. Action guidance	60
C. Utilitarianism and genetic engineering	72
3: Deontology: Engineering at the edges of disease, disability, difference, and death	76

A. Miles, Lamar, and Dr Neo	77
B. Deontological ethics: Justification, the right, and action guidance	91
1. Justification	91
2. The right	94
i. Right, duty, and the categorical imperative	94
ii. Deontology, children, and future children	100
3. Action guidance	106
i. Moral personhood and Kantian respect	106
ii. Principles and Kantian universalization	111
iii. Dignity and rights	117
C. Deontology and genetic engineering	118
4: Virtue ethics: Engineering for the virtues	121
A. Leonard, Trisha, and Dr Arete	121
B. Virtue ethics: Justification, character, and action guidance	132
1. Justification	132
2. Character	141
3. Action guidance	146
C. Virtue ethics and genetic engineering	152
5: Genetic engineering, fractious problems, and a navigational approach to policy-making	155
A. Utilitarianism as a public philosophy	155
B. Deontology as a public philosophy	161
C. The virtues in public philosophy	168
D. A navigational approach	175
Notes	181
Bibliography	202
Index	216