

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	viii
Acknowledgments	xi
Foreword	xii
1 Introduction: a meeting place	1
STEPHANIE RUTHERFORD AND SHARON WILCOX
PART I
The home – shared spaces of cohabitation	9
2 When did pets become animals?	11
PHILIP HOWELL
3 The entwined socioecological histories of the Sawtelle, California war veterans and the animal “menagerie” at the Pacific Branch Soldier’s Home (1888–1918)	23
TERESA LLORO-BIDART
4 Shaking the ground: histories of earthworms from Darwin to niche construction	37
CAMILLA ROYLE
PART II
The city – historical animals in and out of sight	51
5 Zoöpolis	53
JENNIFER WOLCH
6 Kansas City: the morphology of an American zoöpolis through film	73
JULIE URBANIK

- 7 The strange case of the missing slaughterhouse geographies 86
CHRIS PHILO AND IAN MACLACHLAN
- 8 The pigs are back again: urban pig keeping in wartime Britain, 1939–45 107
THOMAS WEBB

PART III

- The nation – historical animal bodies and human identities 119
- 9 Rebel elephants: resistance through human–elephant partnerships 121
JENNIFER MATEER
- 10 Western horizons, animal becomings: race, species, and the troubled boundaries of the human in the era of American expansionism 132
DOMINIK OHREM
- 11 For the love of life: coal mining and pit bull fighting in early 19th-century Britain 149
HEIDI J. NAST

PART IV

- The global – imperial networks and the movements of animals 169
- 12 Migration, assimilation, and invasion in the nineteenth century 171
HARRIET RITVO
- 13 Runaways and strays: rethinking (non)human agency in Caribbean slave societies 185
DAVID LAMBERT

Epilogue 199

- 14 Finding our way in the Anthropocene 201
STEPHANIE RUTHERFORD

Index 206