

Contents

---

List of contributors	page vii
1 Psychological discourse in historical context: An introduction Kenneth J. Gergen and Carl F. Graumann	1
Part I Disciplining psychological discourse
2 The practice of psychological discourse Kurt Danziger	17
3 From tools to theories: Discovery in cognitive psychology Gerd Gigerenzer	36
4 Metaphor and monophony in the twentieth-century psychology of emotions Kenneth J. Gergen	60
5 Psyche and her descendants Carl F. Graumann	83
Part II History as culture critique
6 Power and subjectivity: Critical history and psychology Nikolas Rose	103
7 Cultural politics by other means: Gender and politics in some American psychologies of emotions Catherine Lutz	125
8 Principles of selves: The rhetoric of introductory textbooks in American psychology Jill G. Morawski	145
Part III Early antecedents
9 The naturalized female intellect Lorraine Daston	165

10	Sources of redemption in psychoanalytic developmental psychology Suzanne R. Kirschner	193
11	The historical vicissitudes of mental diseases: Their character and treatment Harry F. M. Peeters	204
12	Women as mothers and the making of the European mind Brigitte Niestroj-Kutzner	227
 Part IV Lived history
13	Emancipation – a failed project? Remarks on the discourse of radical critique Irmgard Staeuble	243
14	The transcendental alarm William Kessen	263
	Author index	275
	Subject index	281