

Reach your learning goals

What do you want to accomplish today? Where do you want to be in five years? What do you hope to achieve in your lifetime? The images on this text's cover reflect just a few of the milestones in our life-long journey toward success and achievement of goals. And no matter what your goals may be, learning will always be part of your journey.

As a student, one of your goals is no doubt to succeed in this course. To help you achieve this goal, we've built Learning Goals into each chapter of this textbook, its accompanying CD-ROM, Study Guide, and Online Learning Center with PowerWeb (www.mhhe.com/santrockld9). To help you keep focused on these Learning Goals, you'll find in each chapter the following features, all of which link back to the chapter's learning goals:

The Chapter Outline shows the organization of topics by heading levels. The Learning Goals, each tied to a main heading, highlight the chapter's most important ideas.

The Reach Your Learning Goals end of chapter map provides a visual summary of the chapter's main topics.

Review and Reflect restates each section's Learning Goal and presents bulleted review statements. Each goal is linked in a one-to-one fashion with the map preceding the section, so that you can quiz yourself on each topic before going on to the next section. The Reflect exercise asks you to think about what you've just learned and apply it to your own life.

The end of chapter Summary restates the chapter's learning goals, along with a brief summary of key points relating to that goal.
