

Dr. Lee Bofkin is a misfit. Whilst completing his PhD at Cambridge he was breakdancing for the UK. After finishing his thesis he left science for the rosy world of finance. Then the markets crashed. He claimed it was not his fault. It was his fault but don't tell anyone. Having left science and finance he now wanders the globe as an itinerant photographer, party organizer and comedy writer. Take a deep breath; it'll probably all work out OK in the end.

Lee Bofkin

Dr. Lee Bofkin read Biological Sciences at Oxford University and completed his DPhil at Cambridge University.
